A MORTUARY ARTICLE.—We are tired of the idea of "puffing" humbug medicines that are constantly thrusting into drug stores, and are merely an imposition upon community. But, when an article comes into the market that is really worthy of commendation, we are happy to make public acknowledgment, trusting that some benefit may arise therefrom. Dr. Sage & Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., have introduced a very valuable Catarrh Remedy, and we take pleasure in calling attention to it, because we know it to be a good article, and a sure cure for that loathsome disease, Catarrh. It is sold by most Druggists, and may be obtained for Sixty Cents through the mail by addressing the proprietors.

Resolutions of "Anticello" Society in Memoriam. When we have lost him, "whose ways are past finding out" to remove from our midst by death, our friend and fellow member Mr. T. C. Manor; therefore

Resolved, that while we would submit to the will of our Heavenly Father, knowing that "He doeth all things well," we nevertheless, mourn the deceased as an earnest and active member of this Society, and as a faithful and loving friend.

Resolved, that in the christian walk and conversation of our departed brother, we have an example worthy of our imitation; and that in his case we hear the warning "Be ye also ready."

Resolved, that we hereby tender our heartfelt sympathies to the members of the bereaved family who have been deprived of him whom they loved so well.

Resolved, that these resolutions be published in the Ashland Co. papers, and that a copy of them be presented to the afflicted family.

Resolved, that as an expression of regard for our departed friend we do now adjourn.

J. C. SHAW Pres't.

W. P. THOMPSON Sec'y.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—Henry Clay Dean, addressed a large meeting in of the Democracy at the Town Hall on last evening. He dealt some severe blows at the Treasury thieves and dis-unions who are doing all they can to pervert the course of the country, by refusing to let the Southern States, resume their places in the Confederacy of States, formed by our patriotic fathers. Mr. Dean has felt the weight of military, despotic rule, and speaks knowingly when he warns the people against coming evils. It will be well to shun the gulf.

Wooster University.

MR. EDITOR:—Through the columns of the excellent papers of Ashland County, I desire to introduce to its citizens, Mr. M. A. Lyman. He will visit them to solicit subscriptions for the endowment of the University, located in this immediate vicinity, and he is earnestly recommended to their confidence and liberality. The State of Ohio partaking of that increased interest in education which the East has secured for Amherst College 350,000, Tufts College 500,000; Harvard College 488,000 and Cornell University 870,000 dollars has determined to establish a University, which in the elegance of its buildings, the influence of its endowment and the ability and thoroughness of its instructors shall be equal to anything in this country. The people of Wayne County by guaranteeing 100,000 dollars have secured the location of the Institution in this section of the State. To the credit of Wayne County, be it said that they have not only raised the $100,000 originally pledged which was to include the building site but they propose to raise 100,000 dollars in money besides the 20 acres of land for its location and on that basis. The whole matter of building fund is therefore amply provided for without going out of that one county. It is now proposed to call on the adjacent counties and the State at large to contribute the endowment fund which has been fixed by the trustees at half a million. No less sum than that can possibly give us an income sufficient to pay such salaries as will secure the services of the very best scholars in the land as professors. The philosophy of colleges is this, that the institution paying the best salaries will get the best professors, and the best professors will secure the best and most students, and the institution with the most money, the best professors and the most students, will be the first institution of the country. It is to the disgrace of our goodly State that there is not to-day within her bounds a college that is recognized or can even make a respectable claim to such a position. We appeal to our citizens whether they are long or willing to be compelled to send their sons either east of the mountains or up to the cold State of Michigan to get for them thorough education. This State is abundantly able to do this noble task. The little State of Massachusetts where the farmers have to pick off the stones every year, has within the last five years given by private donations 2,573,000 dollars to educational purposes. New York in the same time has given $2,849,000 for like purposes, while Ohio in the same time has given only $263,000 or more than two million dollars less than Massachusetts or New York. In these United States within the past five years 15,125,500 have been given for educational endowments, not including anything appropriated by Congress or any State Legislature. The present day is in nothing more pre-eminent than in its determination to perfect its educational advantages, unless therefore, we are prepared as a State to fall far in the rear. There will be some mean, grovelling souls that will absolutely do nothing. It seems hard that the generous should have to do their share as well as their own, but it is so in everything, and the greater the honor to those who do give.

Our agent for Ashland County, Mr. Lyon, will in person more fully explain the general scheme of the enterprise, and bespeaking for him the sympathy and co-operation of every friend of education and civilization and the prayers of every christian, we confidently anticipate his success.

GEN. F. HAYS,
Gen. Fiscal Sec'y,
Wooster University.

DIED.
Hannah Bebout died at the residence of her parents near Savannah, Ashland county, County, O., October 17, 1868, aged 22 years.

The deceased was the youngest daughter of John Bebout and wife. She was the subject of much more than ordinary suffering having been sick about four months preceding her death, the last two of which, it has rarely been the duty of the writer to witness so intense a case of affliction. She was attended by many physicians whose counsels she always heard with calmness and confidence, resigning herself to the will of an Alwise Creator, into whose keeping she passed. A Post Mortem examination was had by Drs. Cowan, Shaw, McKee and others, revealing softening of the base of the brain as a cause of death.

A Flood of Lies.

The wires yesterday were loaded down with special sensational dispatches to radical newspapers, declaring that "Seymour was to be withdrawn," and a new ticket was to be put in the field. We yesterday pronounced these stories mere electioneering dodges of the enemy, and that we were correct is proved by the following dispatch from Sam'l J. Tilden chairman of the New York Democratic Central committee, August Belmont, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Hon. A. Schell, of New York, in reply to a telegram from Washington, asking whether a proposition for a change in the Democratic Presidential candidates was prompted by the Democracy of New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15, 1868.
To Joseph D. Hopper, Washington:
No authority, or probability of change of front. All friends consider it totally impracticable and equivalent to disbanding our forces. We in New York are not panic stricken.

JAMES S. HEARST.

Paying the Debtly Coin.

The Radicals insist that the whole of the national debt, principal and interest, shall be paid in coin. The estimated amount of coin in the whole world is less than twenty five hundred millions, and were every dollar of it collected together and paid over to the bondholders, the bondholders and their radical friends would still be clamoring for more coin wherewith to pay the balance of the debt and the bank interest!

Remember, too, that all the coin in the world must be first earned by the people and paid over to the government before the radical programme can be carried out.

To elect Grant to the Presidency, therefore, is equal to a pledge to the taxpayers that they will set apart from their earnings a sufficient amount during the present century to purchase all the coin on the earth, with an additional amount sufficient for the interest, which will equal the principal.

The taxation of property for the purpose of paying the interest on the debt, but all this coin shall be earned and paid over by business men and the working classes, and that the owners of the bonds and other capitalists shall pay none of it.

Nor is this all. Taxes for the payment of the ordinary expenditures of the federal government, for the protection of heavy manufacturers, for the support of a standing army, for the maintenance of the freedmen's bureau and for state county, town and municipal expenses are to be added.

Five times all the coin in the known world would fail to meet the entire exactions of the radical party from the business and laboring population of the country!

With inequality in taxation—with the south paralyzed by despotic rule—with the agricultural states oppressed by protective tariffs and taxed ten per cent on every note and coin plaster they receive and pay out, is it within the range of possibilities that the portion of the people selected by congress for taxation can ever earn all this coin for the benefit of the bondholders? Will radical electors please to answer!—Plain Dealer.

The Mountain of Debt

Mr. Pendleton, in his speech in Hartford, said:

The republicans have not only perverted our government, but have bankrupted the country. During these three years of peace we have collected fifteen hundred and ninety four millions of dollars.

One hundred and twenty-four millions of this have been paid on account of the debt? What has become of the rest?

Forteen hundred and twenty millions vanished, who knows where, in three years!

It has gone, most of it, to the "freedmen's bureau," [groan], and to the costly military governments so needlessly kept up in ten states. It has gone to support the "constitutional amendments" of congress, the scheme of negro suffrage, and the insatiable carpet baggers! [Groan again.]

Fifteen hundred and ninety four millions of all the property in the country—money, crops, houses, rail roads, farms, tools, and everything else! Great Britain during these same three years spent one hundred and France one hundred and a half of resources. If you are swamped on all of it, it amounts to $34 45 a head, for every one of us. Our debt under radical rule exceeds in its burthen that of any other country.—Exchange.
